FULL-TIME ACADEMIC GYNAECOLOGIST

The University of Manitoba, Rady Faculty of Health Sciences, Max Rady College of Medicine, Province of Manitoba and the Shared Health have developed a unique partnership to actively support health education, research, and the provision of the highest standard of quality patient care. Focused on providing medicine with meaning, advancing knowledge and technology and educating tomorrow’s health care professionals, it is our collaborative strengths that will lead us into the future.

The Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology & Reproductive Sciences, University of Manitoba and Shared Health, Women’s Health Program is seeking full-time Academic Gynecologist. The successful candidate will have completed at least one year of fellowship training in minimally invasive surgery with expertise in laparoscopic hysterectomy, myomectomy and treatment of advanced stage endometriosis.

This is a geographical, full-time, contingent position commencing January 1, 2021, or as soon thereafter as possible, for a term of 3 years, renewable upon favourable review. Salary and rank will be dependent upon qualifications and experience.

Job Description

Demonstrated research ability is essential. This position carries an expectation of protected time devoted to scholarship, clinical research, and knowledge translation. Preference will be given to candidates with on-going involvement in scholarly research and strong peer-reviewed publication records. Evidence of previous or current involvement in administration is required, as is evidence of involvement in education.

Clinical responsibilities include acting as a consultant gynaecologist primarily based at St. Boniface Hospital with access to surgical slates at four Winnipeg hospitals. Obstetrics is not a major requirement although some obstetrical practice is anticipated. Participation in an on-call schedule will be available.

Academic responsibilities include mentorship of colleagues and residents in addition to teaching undergraduate students. Leadership and innovation will be important components of this role. We are committed to substantially increasing minimally invasive surgical options for the patients we serve; a previous history of surgical education and technology promotion is preferred.

A strong commitment to medical education will be required including undergraduate classroom teaching, postgraduate lectures, grand rounds, departmental rounds, colleague mentoring and clinical/bedside teaching. The successful candidate will support a work and learning environment that embraces the College of Medicine's Equity, Diversity and Inclusion policies, reflecting the dignity of all people.
Qualifications

- Current or eligibility for licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Manitoba specialist registry as an Obstetrician Gynaecologist
- Fellowship: Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada in Obstetrics & Gynaecology
- Canadian citizenship or permanent residency
- Eligibility for hospital privileges within Shared Health and WRHA
- Eligibility for a University of Manitoba teaching appointment

Start Date: Negotiable
